Common Explanation (1-5):

Final family tree:

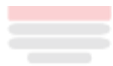

Common Explanation:

Reference:

M is sister of B who is husband of N.

K is only son of N.

Inference:

Reference:

R is daughter-in-law of M.

Inference:

M must be married and she must have at least one son.

Reference:

P is only brother of T who is son of A.

The family has four married couples.

V is only daughter of J.

The family has four married couples.

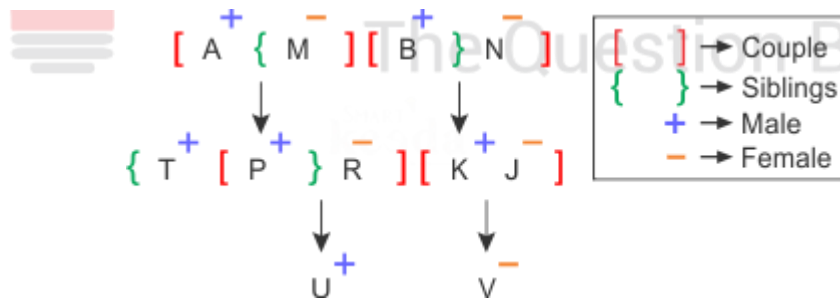

U is only son of P

Inference:

To make four married couples, we must have husband of M and R, and wife of K.

Since P has a kid, he must be married. P could be husband of R as he is brother of T who is son of A. In this case, A becomes husband of M.

We get the following final family tree:

1. From final family tree we see that R is mother of U.

Hence, option C is correct.

2. From final family tree we see that R is sister-in-law of T.

Hence, option B is correct.

3. From final family tree we see that K is father of V.

Hence, option B is correct.

4. From final family tree we see that B is brother-in-law of A.

Hence, option C is correct.

5. From final family tree we see that U is Grandson of M.

Hence, option D is correct.
